

Helping a leading renewable energy company drive new market expansion through providing business critical services

Operate | Business Process Solutions

The challenge

The client is a large European energy company and a leading provider of renewable energy with operations around the world.

Following 55 strategic business acquisitions, the client reevaluated the efficiency of their core business functions in areas such as tax, legal, and HR—where several legacy third parties were providing legacy outsourced service support. To improve global cross-functional coordination and efficiencies, they sought to centralize and consolidate these operations under a single and reliable outsourced service provider.

Our solution

The client approached Deloitte to help streamline their business operations due to its strong relationship and experience supporting one of their recently acquired companies.

We now deliver ongoing management and support of key technology, systems, and processes across the client's back-office—including finance, human resources, tax compliance and advisory, legal, enterprise resource planning (ERP) configuration and deployment, and more. We were selected after demonstrating strong multi-disciplinary and technical subject matter expertise, alongside multi-geographical support capabilities.

Additionally, Business Digital Hub (BDH), Deloitte's global platform for world-class finance outsourcing, is utilized to help the client manage their ongoing accounting and statutory obligations and support internal compliance procedures.
